

Move back 2 spaces.

Your little brother drops his snack and spills crackers everywhere, but you don't help him clean up.

Move up 2 spaces.

Your mom walks in with bags of groceries. You head out to the car and help bring in the rest.

Move up 2 spaces.

Your big sister is setting the table. You help her even though it's not one of your chores.

Move back 2 spaces.

At recess, you play soccer with your friends, but you steal the ball and won't pass it to another kid on your team.

Move up 5 spaces.

You help your dad clean up the garage.

Move up 2 spaces.

Everyone in your class brings in canned food for the canned food drive at school.

Move up 5 spaces.

You help your grown-up match up all the socks while they fold the laundry!

Move back 2 spaces.

Your friends decide to create a new dance. But when you start to share ideas, you refuse to listen and only want things to go your way.

Move up 2 spaces.

You and your friend want to swing, but only one swing is open. So you decide to take turns.

Move back 2 spaces.

You notice your friend picking up all the books in your classroom. You don't offer to help.

Move back 2 spaces.

It's time to clean up the toys. But instead of helping, you walk back to your seat in your classroom.

Move back 2 spaces.

You leave out a classmate who wants to look at books with your group during time in the school library.